Discover Montreal's "Q"uirky Side on Vermont PBS
Season 3 of Qulture Premieres Online in June

Colchester, VT – June 5, 2019 – Swing dancing! Luncheonettes! Puppets, rooftop gardens and tattoo art! With something for everyone, Qulture is back for season three, exploring all corners of arts, culture, and fun north of the border.

"Québec is a very special part of the Vermont PBS family, and we're excited to share more of its rich experiences with season three of Qulture," says Holly Groschner, President and CEO of Vermont PBS.

Qulture, a mash-up of 'Québec' and 'Culture,' explores the thriving arts scene and unique artistic talent in and around Montréal. This season visits Cats Corner swing dance club, McKiernan's Luncheonette, Concordia Greenhouse, one of Montréal's prominent puppet theatres, Art Souterrain, Framestore, Jardin Botanique de Montréal and Bloodline, a private tattoo studio in Montréal.

All full episodes of Qulture will be released online only at vermontpbs.org/culture and on the Vermont PBS Facebook page Sundays in June and July. Stream episode one now, along with full episodes from seasons one and two at vermontpbs.org/culture.
